Additional completion requirements for HSC courses

Students must:

- complete HSC assessment tasks that contribute in excess of 50% of available marks in courses where internal assessment marks are submitted and
- sit for and make a serious attempt at any requisite Higher School Certificate examinations for a course

How is my HSC mark determined?

Moderation explained by CEO of NESA:

Finalising marks/ranks

- At the end of the Year 12 course, the marks for each task are aggregated using the weightings previously published in the PHHS Assessment Booklet, to arrive at a final assessment mark for each student.
- These marks are submitted to NESA, and provide a RANK ORDER of students.
- Results are then moderated by NESA to ensure that marks submitted by different schools can be compared.

Assessment

- Four tasks per 2 unit course - including the Trial HSC
- These assessment marks are submitted to NESA as a mark /100, and will form 50% of your final HSC mark. The HSC Examination is worth 50%.
- English Studies and Mathematics Standard 1 are different - unless you choose to sit the optional HSC Examination.

Assessment

- The Assessment Booklet is an extremely important document. It gives the details of your tasks: dates, weighting, components etc.
- All work that you present in an HSC task / exam must be your own. Malpractice, including plagiarism, makes you liable to receive zero marks for the task. Remember All My Own Work?

Something to consider:

If there is misadventure in the HSC exam - for example, if you are sick and can't do the exam - you will receive your moderated school assessment mark.

This is one very important reason to achieve your best in every assessment task.

Understanding the difference between HSC marks and ATAR

HIGHER SCHOOL CERTIFICATE

The HSC presents a profile showing the STANDARDS a student achieves in the courses they studied

AUSTRALIAN TERTIARY ADMISSION RANK

A student's ATAR is a RANK indicating their achievement not against a standard, but against other students

HSC and ATAR differences

HSC

Raw HSC marks are not scaled – they are aligned to standards ie moderated to meet the standards within bands

ATAR

Each course is scaled not against a standard but against the quality of the entire HSC candidature
A new mark value is assigned for each course
An aggregate is given to form a RANK ORDER

ATAR Scaling Philosophy

The scaling model looks for the “strength of the competition”

or the

“company you’re in”

or the

“quality of the candidature”

Students Online

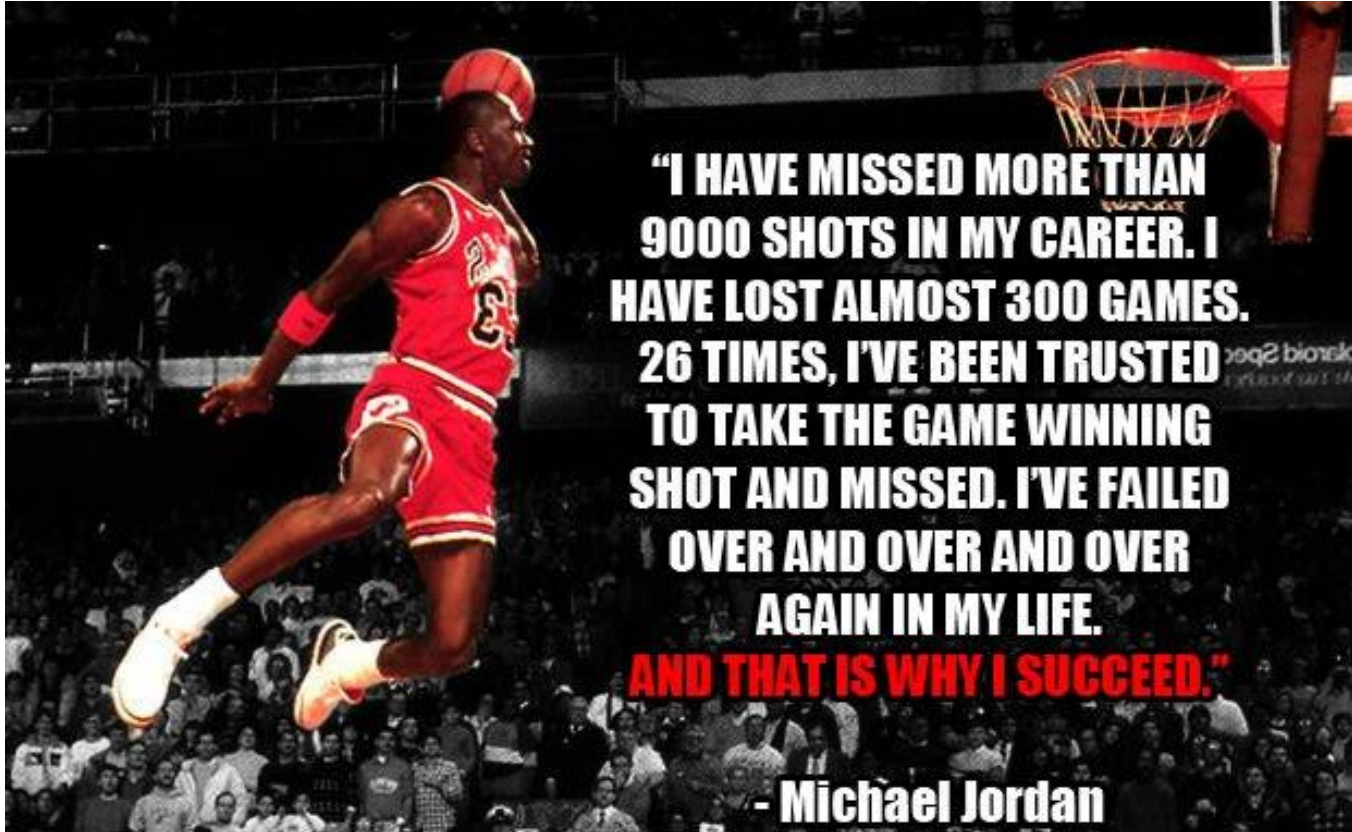

- This website is important - it is how NESA will communicate with you. It includes information and advice to help you.
- You have your own personal account. To access it, search Students Online, login with your NESA number and create a PIN.
- Your personal details such as your exam timetable, assessment ranks, Year 10 and 11 grades and eventually your HSC results appear here.

Remember:

- Keep on top of tasks - know the schedule and the due dates to balance the demands of different subjects
- Check your work against the marking criteria
- Get organised, and maintain your system
- Develop a regular study schedule - Mrs Dennett will work with you on this
- Your teachers are your best resource

Academic care at PHHS

Senior study periods during the day are supervised in the Library, and assistance is available.

A wide range of resources are available in the Library. The Library opens at 8.00am Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and is open until 4.30pm on Wednesday afternoons.

There is a program of seminars and masterclasses offered. All students are welcome to attend.

Seminar schedule Term 4

8.00 am Mondays; repeated Wednesday lunchtimes

- Monday 16 October: Goal setting and motivation
- Monday 23 October: Organisation for success
- Monday 30 October: Knowing how you learn
- Monday 6 November: Attacking a task
- Monday 13 November: Notemaking and revision

Senior study lessons

- All study periods that fall in Period 2 and 3 are supervised and the roll is marked, just as any other lesson would be. All students report to the Library and swipe in.
- These periods are a combination of structured lessons and individual study.
- Study periods that fall in Periods 1 or 4 may be spent at home. The Library is also open ...

...HOWEVER...

...all students are to be at school
every lesson until all Learning
Contracts are returned.

Discontinuing a course

Some students choose to discontinue one of their courses.

The process for this is as follows:

- Meet with Ms Payne
- Complete paperwork
- When your application has been processed, you are placed on the Senior Study rolls.

This is when you are able to cease attending the discontinued class.

Senior study lessons

Are you doing a major project in IT or Visual Arts or Textiles?

Yes, you are able to work on them during some private study periods, with a condition:

We need the consent of a supervising teacher in the workshop.

10% on Top program

Every Year 12 student is allotted a 10% on Top mentor.

This program operates along traditional mentoring lines, allowing students to benefit from the advice and expertise of Year 12 teachers.

HSC Disability Provisions

Disability provisions provide students with practical support to access, i.e. read and respond to, the Higher School Certificate (HSC) exams.

NESA Disability Provisions

Students who believe they qualify for disability provisions should see Mrs Amy Austin, Head Teacher Student Wellbeing.

Tips for managing stress

1. Take time out: give yourself permission to recharge. Try and get outside for a walk to get away from the computer.
2. Make a study plan: set yourself a list and act on it; take bite-sized chunks out of the study so that you can feel a sense of achievement.
3. Challenge your thinking. Often we give better advice to others than we give to ourselves . . . hearing your own feelings from someone else can help you take action
4. Talk about it. All Year 12 are going through this as well. Share the experience with each other.
5. Reach out: seek help from one of the many services available such as headspace, Kids Helpline, Reachout, Lifeline and Beyond Blue.

The five lessons

1. All the little things add up.
1. The HSC is more than a mark; it's a measure of intent.
1. If it isn't difficult, challenging or intense, then don't expect any rewards at the end of it.
1. Your network will support you, but it's a two-way street.
1. Mistakes will be made. Own them, learn from them, grow because of them.
